

PERSONAL EXPERIENCES

"Long flights and constant travelling for work had begun to take their toll, with constant headaches at the base of my skull. Jodechi has helped immensely in alleviating this problem - and has offered simple but effective relaxation methods that I can employ on a daily basis."

"Since meeting Jodechi, she has shed a light on my heart and has enabled me to release the pain and negative emotions blocking my body and personal progress. Her warmth makes me feel safe to face my fears and to release them. My body is now healing rapidly as well as my heart and mind. Jodechi heals on all levels. She is truly God sent. I feel blessed to have come in contact with her."

M.E. Singer/songwriter/teacher

"Jodechi has helped me to look inside myself and find happiness. I have stopped biting my nails, I have gained confidence and learned to say no, I feel less stressed and ALL my relationships have improved. Jodechi is a joy and an inspiration!"

"I was very ill when I first saw Jodechi. The radiologist doctor had told me that she was worried about me. I trusted Jodechi completely, and was able to tell her my life's secrets. That week, I saw the disease leave my body. I saw my doctor, who was elated- "You've turned a corner" she said. Six weeks later I was officially pronounced cured. I write this to encourage others to trust Jodechi and her wonderful healing gifts."

A.H. Fashion designer

" I had never heard of healing when I first went to see Jodechi but I was desperate and thought that I would give anything a try. I was on very strong medicine for my high blood pressure and as I'm a teacher I deal with enormous amounts of stress on a daily basis. I was very wary when I first went to see her, as I knew nothing about healing. Now I go for my once a month "check-up" healing session. I no longer have to take my blood pressure medication as my blood pressure has tested normal for many months and I just feel much better. I don't know what I would have done if I hadn't had help with my stress levels. I highly recommend Jodechi and her unique gift!"

JODECHI

INTUITIVE TRANSFORMATIONAL HEALING

Healing is much more than just the alleviation of symptoms. It is the integration of our whole being - body, emotions, mind and spirit.

Now you can experience the benefits of healing from a sensitive and gifted healer.

JODECHI

INTUITIVE TRANSFORMATIONAL HEALING

In today's modern world, with its hectic pace of life, it is very easy for those of us who feel unhealthy - not only physically, but also emotionally or spiritually - to find that the normal avenues of treatment leave much to be desired.

Often we journey from practitioner to practitioner, each of whom may prescribe a different drug or treatment, and few who seem to take the time or have the intuition to understand the depth, scope and meaning of our problems. The symptoms sometimes go away, but often they recur either in the same or a different form, leading many of us to the conclusion that true healing is more than the relief of symptoms, and that only when we are able to reach the core issues and meanings can we find the solutions that we seek.

Jodechi successfully demonstrated her healing abilities in front of a panel of orthodox medical doctors, who presented her with some of their most difficult patients.

In order to reach these core issues, an increasing number of us are turning to healers with the ability to accompany us on our own journey to health and happiness. These sensitive people are able to pick up the messages and meanings that are often hidden in our body and minds, and to relay these to our conscious minds so that any blockages can be released.

Jodechi is a powerful intuitive healer who has been able to achieve remarkable results with a whole range of challenging problems - physical, emotional and spiritual. Before coming to London, she had set up a healing centre in India where she successfully demonstrated her healing abilities in front of a panel of orthodox medical doctors, who presented her with some of their most difficult patients. Using a gentle yet effective approach, coupled with an open-hearted nature, Jodechi has helped many people find health and happiness. She has run her own healing clinics in Rhajasthan, India; Geneva, Switzerland; London and now the Dorking, Surrey area.

Each healing session starts with a dialogue, during which the desired outcome for the session is explored. Jodechi then lightly passes her hand over the client's fully clothed body, picking up images, sounds and impressions (which she calls "body-talk") which convey to her the location, form and extent of healing required. During body talk, clients usually find themselves experiencing an enormously nurturing sense of relaxation and peace, and often will themselves get in touch with long-forgotten, deep-seated memories and emotions. After describing to her client what she has picked up in the body, Jodechi directs her powerful healing energies to the particular "problem" sites or situations in question, allowing for their safe and gentle return to balance and wholeness.

She directs her powerful healing energies to the particular "problem" sites or situations in question, allowing for their safe and gentle return to balance and wholeness.

Like many healers, Jodechi has personally experienced and overcome many of the traumas and fears that her clients come to release - from emotional and physical abuse as a child, to cancer, physical disability and mercury poisoning issues as an adult. These learning experiences enable her to bring enormous amounts of empathy and love into her healing sessions.
